

The Berber Market

Morocco

The Berbers came, set up their market with animals and wares to sell and were gone at the end of the day. They camels, goats, and other animals. There was a shoemaker sitting on a blanket and people selling trinkets they had made.